

The Kennedy Center

THE JOHN F. KENNEDY CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20566-0001
202 416-8000
FAX 202 416-8205

January 25, 2008

Partners Achieving Success, CDC
Ms. Renata Roy, Executive Director
12303 Longwater Drive
Mitchellville, MD 20721

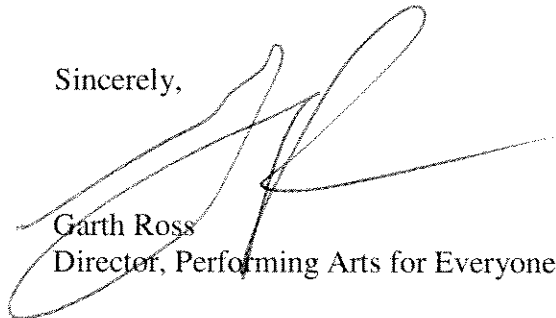

Dear Ms. Roy:

It is my pleasure to write and confirm the Kennedy Center's participation and partnership with Partners Achieving Success, CDC in the 105 Voices of History event scheduled for September 7, 2008. This historic event to celebrate National HBCU Week will be a welcomed addition to the Center's programming and we are honored to host the inaugural performance of the National Choir.

The Kennedy Center and the Performing Arts for Everyone department is committed to establishing relationships that strengthen and promote arts outreach across the country. We look forward to establishing a lasting partnership with the 105 Voices of History project and exploring future opportunities for the growth of this unique program and its historic constituents.

Thank you for allowing us to join you in this important celebration. We look forward to working with all constituents to create a beautiful evening.

Sincerely,

Garth Ross
Director, Performing Arts for Everyone